NOTES AND COMMENTS.

We desire to call special attention Manila correspondent's letter published in this issue. It is the first connected narrative of the movement in the Philippines that has appeared from any pen and the first comprehensive statement of the causes that led up to it. seems to us to be the letter of a wel informed person, with considerable loca knowledge, and who is fairly entitled to sign himself "IMPARTIAL." We can assure our readers that he is both well informed and perfectly impartial, not caring individually for either of the contending parties or having any ties or connections with either. We believe he does only justice to Mr. Davidson, while pointing out the worthlessness of most of his statements through want of opportunity and means of knowledge. We never questioned that gentleman's perfect bond fides. 'We only pointed out that all he reported was hearsay, without even the guarantee knowing from whom the hearsay information had been obtained.

We spent half an hour last night in the careful perusal of the first number o Odds and Ends and we are not so well, satisfied with it or so hopeful for its success as we were after our first hasty glance over the illustrations, the table of contents and the general get-up of the new magazine. We are afraid it is a governmental production, a literary supplement to the Hongkong Government Gazette, and edited by the same hand as wel as printed in the same office. The article on the Tung Wah could only have emanated from the Registrar-General's Department or from some one well acquainted_with_the_opinions_entertained there on the subject. It is a little bit of special pleading in support of the traditional view of the Tung Wah and in anticipation, probably, of the report of the Commission recently appointed to inquire into and report on the affairs of that institution. The article, short as it is, contains two misstatements, both apparently inserted with an object. The one is that Sir RICHARD COLONEL SPALDING, C.M.G., lately commanding GRAVES MACDONNELL, the founder of th Tung Wah, " recognised the necessity of purely Chinese Hospital, to be maintained solely for the use of the natives. which the practices in the matter of medical science peculiar to this people were not to interfered with." The words which we have printed in italics are a wilful misrepresentation of Sir Richard's views, as is equally the statement a little lower down that the "Government supervision charities," and control was to be confined to certain matters." It was intended to be universal and of the most minute description. Sir Rich-ARD MACDONNELL knew and thoroughly understood the people he had to deal with, and daily and hourly supervision was his ideal. We hope that the Tung Wah is about to be reformed and re-modelled as suggested in the concluding paragraph of the semi-official article now under notice, but we have our doubts on the subject and do not expect to see any material improvement there, or in the treatment of Chinese matters generally, until a certain well-known Governmen official - has been promoted out of this colony. He has our best wishes.

There is another very curious illustration n this first number of Odds and Ends of the influence of the official element, or of very strong desire on the part of the promoters, if they are unofficials, to conciliate the governing powers. There is once it should be ordered to be decanted at | Page II a very interesting little article on Taipingshan, with a reference the plague epidemic of 1894, the clearing SHERRY,-Excellent Dinner and After Dinner, out of Talpingshan by the Permanent Committee of the Sanltary Board, and to the reconstruction of the quarter in accordance with the latest sanitary Priced, are guaranteed to he the genuine as the President of the Permanent Comproduct of the juice of the grape and are not [ mittee, and the forcible removal of the inhabitants from the district is stated have been carried out, with much judgment and discretion, by the Housing Committee BRANDY,-All our Brandy is guaranteed to be under Mitchell-Innes! As a matter of fact, every house in the plague-stricken area was cleared by the 7th June, long before the Housing Committee was ever thought WHISKEY .- All our Whiskey list of excellent of, and the work was done by Mr. Maxand well done-while MITCHELL-INNES was simply working as a Volunteer with the search parties. As to the Presidency of justification or excuse for the deliberately false statement made on this point by the writer of the article before us, or for the Editor who allowed it to pass under his eye We only guarantee our WINES and SPIRITS uncorrected. Unless Odds and Ends intends ment control and from official influences, the sooner it ceases publication the better for itself and for its proprietors. We are pretty sick in Hongkong of official ignorance, incompetence, and mendacity 'a skape or form whatever.

REUTER'S MESSAGE.

THE VENEZUELA QUESTION. LONDON, November 15th. The decision of "the Venezuela Arbitration Court is not expected to be given before one year. In consequence of this the German Press regard the Ventavela settlement as an admission on the part of Great Britain, that the United States have a right to supersede any American Republic in disputes with European Powers.

(From Bangkot Observer.) THE EGYPTIAN QUESTION. LONDON, November and.

The recent speeches of the Hon. G. Curron and Lord Beresford have excited French opinion on the Egyptian Question, and the Paris papers declare that the time has come for British promises to be fulfilled. They also sugges schemesties inducing Germany to join the Dual Alliance to force the British to evacuate Egypt.

THE GREAT WESTERN RAILWAY OF CHINA.

SHANGHAI, November 13th. Later information enables us to correct one o two misapprehensions in our recent article on this important subject. It appears now that it is only the section from Peking to Hankow, some 650 miles, which Sheng Tactal authorised by Imperial edict to form a Chinese company to construct. It is not Wharton-Barker syndicate, but a syndicate represented by Mr. Bash, to which Sheng has promised the order for the necessary materials which he cannot provide at the Hanyang Ironworks, payment therefor being taken by the syndicate in shares in the projected company. It is stated that the syndicate is prepared to provide for this purpose a sum of at least twenty million tacis,-N.-C. Datly Naws.

and breaking all previous records. THE Indian Review, edited by Mr. Robert Hawthorne, B.A., Ph.D., is to be published fortnightly. According to the Times of Caylon each paper will contain a precis of the most interesting articles that have appeared in the newspapers published in Bombay, Calcutts, Madras, Labore, Allahabad, Scinde, Ceylon, and Burma, and also on matters relating to India from the English ournals. The subscription is one rupes a month and in order to ensure the new venture a fair trial it is intended to post 5,000 complimentary copies to every mess and club in India and Burms,-This has the appearance of being a very Stead-y enterprise. THE Belgic brought news from San Francisco yesterday to the effect that the much-talked-of prize fight between "Sailor" Sharkey, the latest another attempt was made aspirant for championship "honours," and James Corbett is dead off, the latter having the Permanent Committee there can be no | backed out of it at the last moment on the ground that he prefers to meet Flissimmons before giving the American sailor a chance to take the belt from him. The general opinion in Frisco seems to be that Corbett is by no means anxious to meet Sharkey in a "finish fight" and hopes to continue traveiling on his reputation to emancipate itself entirely from Govern- for some months to come by making a pretence of preparing for a contest with Flissimmons. Sharkey is enraged by what he considers slight and has issued a challenge to the whole world thus :-... I'll fight any man in the world -black, white, or blue; I bar no colour, size, or weight. If I can force Corbett to meet me and do not want any more of it in any I'll bet $5,000 on the side he'll not be on his

A BILL to prohibit tobacco smoking by javeniles has been introduced in the New South Wales Parliament, and not before it was needed. It is a common sight in Sydney to see school boys going along the streets with eigerettes or pipes at full pressure. As in the Far East so it is in Australia-there are far too many " young old men " in evidence. THE Peking correspondent of the North China Daily Name writing on the 6th instant reports that the Japanese endeavoured to have a clause inserted in the new Commercial Treaty preventing the Chinese from taxing goods manufactured by foreigners in China. At the eleventh hour the Japanese conceded this point, receiving quid pro quo in the shape of concessions at Tientsin, Shanghal, Hankow, and Amoy.

An addition was made to the Royal Navy on 14th ult. by the delivery from Messrs. Thorney croft and Co., of Chiswick, of the new twinscrew torpedo-boat destroyer Fame, which will be completed for commission at Chatham Dockyard. The Fame is a sister to the destroyer Desperate, and is fitted with engines of 5,400 horse-power, estimated to propel her at a speed of 30 knots per hour. The Fame will be equipped with one 12-pounder and five 6-pounder quick-firing guns.

KCWLOONITES are complaining of the great want of rickshas, or rather ricksha coolies, in their popular and growing suburb. On the arrival of the ferry launch, although plenty vehicles are standing on the Prays and in the shed provided for them, yet the coolies belonging to fully one half of them are "nine times out of ten absent and only the fortunate few .who manage to scramble ashore first are able to ride home. Cannot something be done to remedy this state of affairs?

A NEW YORK Tribune special of the 15th ultimo from Washington says :- There is much tall among naval officers regarding the successor of Admiral Beardslee, Commander-In-Chief of the Pacific Station. The impression prevails that Commodore J. N. Miller, the Commandant of the Boston Navy Yard, will be assigned to this duly. Another officer also spoken of for the place is Commodore George Dewey, formerly of the Portsmouth Navy Yard. He has not been at sea since 1888.

Am officer of an Uhlan regiment quartered at Faulquemont, in Lorraine, on the 15th nitimo completed a remarkable long-distance ride on his regimental charger. King Humbert is the titular chief of this regiment, and it was decided to send one of the officers to congratulate Naples. Lieutenant Hoffmann was selected for the mission, and this officer determined to ride from Faulq lemont to Monza, where the King of Italy was then residing. He proceeded Strasburg, Hasle, Lucerne, and the St. Gothard accomplishing the distance-487 miles-in seven days and two hours.

We hear that the leading Chinese merchants and shopk epers doing business in the colony have attached their respective "chops" to a memorial to the Secretary of State for the Colonies utging that high and mighty representative of imperialism to be graciously pleased to use his influence in the matter of the re-enactment of the law providing for the registration of brothels, which, it is said, was very unwisely repealed a year or two ago. The petition is to be presented to the Governor, who will be asked to forward it to Downing Street. The petitioners claim that since the repeal of certain laws of the colony has by no means improved as consequence of the repeal, and, further, that the re-enactment of the law governing houses of illfame will entail no hardship to the "unfortunate"

A FRISCO Press despatch dated Washington, D.C., 10th October says :- The flagship Charleston is to be altered to a single command cruiser at the navy yard, More Island, Cal. This decision was had by the Board of Naval Bureau without a dissenting vote. The vessel will also be out in thorough repair, after seven years of the most arduous service of any ship in the new payy, the work requiring eight months' time and an expenditure of $100,000. The Chareleton has been the smallest flagship in the navy. She was fitted with admiral's quarters because at the time of her construction an few versels were available for that duty. Now, however, about 65 per cent, of her berth is taken up for officers' quarters, and her crew space is badly cramped. The changes now ordered will remedy this defect and give the sailors more breathing and sleeping space. The change is made possible by the fact that there are three flagships on the Pacific, and the ne - battleship No. 0 to be built at San Francisco will have accommodations for an admiral. The Charleston has been continuously on the go since she was commissioned. December 26th, 1889. Besides her chase after the Itata and her long run to attend the paval review at Hampton Roads, she has steamed up and down the Pacific Coast of America several times, and made voyages to China and tours to Hawaii during the exciting times there of a few years ago, THE four-masted British barque Drumcraig

THE REBELLION IN THE PHILIPPINES.

To THE EDITOR OF THE "HONGKONG TRENGRAPH." Sir,-Allow me to compliment you on the leading article in your mail supplement of 28th ulto. It is quite refreshing to see something of common sense published after reading all the "tommy-rot" that has appeared in the Hongkong papers. The foreign community here, as a majority, strongly condemn the spirit in which the sundry articles on the Philippine rebellion have been written; and really to an imparital conserver it would almost seem as if the Hong-kong press were inclined to foster the rebellion.

As a resident of some twenty years' standing in Manila I have been requested by some of the principal and sensible foreign residents to relute the many filre statements made, and impartially give a light outline of the events as they have happened.

In the first place, we must do justice to Mr. J. W. Davidson. He was here something under two weeks, was careful and painstaking in trying to obtain correct information, and I quite believe he was sincerely anxious to be impartial. His nationality was very much against him, and for information he had almost entirely to rely on hearsay. There are two important manufactotics of "hearsay" in Manila-one is in the Escolts, where idle Spaniards congregate and .fabricate, and the other is the Club-and the stranger who cannot get bevend the range of these centres is "taken in." You can easily imagine that it is impossible to prevent some of ... the young bloods of the Club from doing a certain amount of "leg pulling," and what they don't do In fun they do in ignorance. The rebels also, through their spies; set affect many false rumours to favour their own cause.

Mr. Bavidson had no possible means of verifying his assertion with regard to torture inflicted, nor is it possible that he could have spoken with any of the prisoners. There is no doubt that in some cases pressure has been brought to bear on prisoners to force them into confession, but there is certainly not the wholesale torture and cruelty that the rebels and newspaper correspondents would lead us to

There is a foundation of truth in the article about the uprising in Mindanae, but it is wrong in the main. Three hundred disciplinaties convoying stores from Zligan to Marabnit revolted and killed their officers, afterwards clearing off along the coast to Cagayan Bay, where they were chased by the royal troops into the hills. There they will die of starvation, or be killed by the troops or their natural enemies the Moros. The Spaniards have lost nothing in Mindanao-the places already in their possession being well guarded-and all that can be said is that thew have there suspended operations until the rebellion bere is quashed.

The incident of the marines revolting at Guadalupe is grossly exterrated. The occurrence was a simple squebble between an Indian marine and his corporal, during which the former fired and wounded the latter. Two other Indians of the guard, fearing vengeance might be wreaked on them, took refuse in a room of Guadelupe convent tower, where they made a stand, shooting through the door at the Spaniards who called on them to surrender. The latter burst the door open, and the Indians climbed through the window and lowered themselves by the lightning red to the groups, where they were made prisoners by two Spanish marines on guard.

Mr. Davidson shows a little of American mailclousness when he says that, the Spaniards having now no bull-fights to see have taken to witnessing the new spectacle of shooting rabels at the Luceta as a recreation. This is not a fair statement. Those who were shot were adjudged serious abuses have sprung up, that the morality | traitors and paid the just penalty, and the crowd that assembled to witness the execution was very small compared to what I have formerly seen at public executions in England. When the companies of soldiers and volunteers that formed the square marched off after the execution they marched in the slow mourning step customary or such occasions, but possibly a manual on the different marching steps does not form part of Mr. Davidson's war reporting equipment.

> speak further on. With exceptions mentioned, Mr. Davidson has been fairly impartial for an American. It is not to be expected that Americans, whose sympathies are entirely with Cubs, on which they keep their eagle eve for ulterior motives, should be entirely impartial where Spain is concerned.

Of the "Black Hole" I shall have occasion to

We now come to a new correspondent who signs himself "Alphia." Where he balls from or who he is is a mystery to all here, but it is quite plain that he is either a sincere sympathiser with the rebels or he : wishes to make up an interesting stricle, or maybap he is a mere echo of the countless unfounded rumours flying about A club member, who has had in his youth an excellent biblical training, has spotted him as a Catholic, as he refers to the sixth commandment which in the Protestant religion is the seventh, but this is as far as we have got, In the battle of Talleay he has gone one better then the rebals and killed a colonel. I am glad to be able to state that the colonel is still alive and well. He further takes the supreme command out of General Bianco's hands and sends General Echsluce home under arrest. The latter, whose term of office expired in October, went home very ill under medical sivice. He was second in command under General Bianco, and whether his opinions may or may not have agreed with those of the former. he carried out the superior orders to the letter. and goes home highly commended by General Blanco for his valuable and able assistance. The statement of "shooting right and left" at at San Juan is distinctly melicious. The men shot were armed and in active warfare against

" " Alphia " cites an instance of Spanish soldiers Indian brothers-in-arms, fought side by side with them, exten with them, and have openly admired their brave comportment. And as regards the food given to the soldiers, Spanish and Indians have equal allowance of wine, and the food only differs in kind because the native prefers his "morisqueta" and " vianda" to the food supplied to Europeans, Even were the Indian to get only ten cents per day allowance outside of wine, it would be quite ample. An Englishman only makes two dollars per month difference between the wages of servants with or without food, and we suppose "Alphia" to be an Englishman, unless perchance he be a member of the "Katipunan,"

I have not checked the translation of Mr. Comenge's speech. It is probably correct, although it is a remarkable fact that there are not above a dozen Englishman in Menila who could make a correct translation. But even if one man in a moment of patriotic excitement should preach "blood and thunder," that is no of a whole country. Your Penning correspondent has also apparently suffered from the " stafflog ? process. His informant (of ten years residence to the Philippines) intates that the espels have

I to occ oco behind them, and are possessed of 1,500,000 Martini rifla: - and this he states without Assitation. Well, when you do tell a whopper it's better not to hesitate about it. He further states that the arms were imported by a German firm. It is far fem falr to the German community here that such a hold statement should be made without any foundation whatso-

The informant goes on to state that the " ! lack Hole of Manila is a terrible reality; scores of people are thrown into it daily, and as the tide rises it drowns the smallest of the prisoners, while all of them ultimately die an agonfaing | arrests precipitated matters or not is so far death." What actually bappened in the socalled Black Hole is the following : During the day of the fight at Sta. Mesa and the day following, some two hundred prisoners who had taken part in the fight and the riots in Pandacan were | by the outposts of the Civil Police, and retired imprisoned in the old and disused powder to a hedge near the Santa Mesa rope factory magraine"of the Santiago fort, there being no and waited in ambush until daylight. Infanmagazine has a large ventilator at the top, and try soldiers came later to reinforce the police at night when a heavy shower of rain came on | and the rebels were soon conquered, leaving the sentinel closed it. Unfortunately, when the I many dead on the field, and many were taken rain payed off the new sentinel on duty omitted | prisoners." This was the start of active warfare. to open I', and fifty-six prisoners were asphixisted. It was an unfortunate occurrence, later, was that the large majority of the natives and no one deploted it more than the authorities. In the provinces of Cavite and Balangas had Since then every care ber been taken to avoid a risen in arms, robbed all the arms from the recurrence of such a sad disaster. That G-neral tribunals of the different towns, killed several Blanco should lose his dignity and kick a police officers, police, priests, and a number of lieutenant downstairs is ridiculous and requires | Chinamen and strongly fortified themselves in no comment.

The informant, gives it as his opinion that when the Cubias have become independent | time the rebels rose in the province of Nueva they will lend their aid to free the Philippine natives from the Spanish yoke. It strikes me that were such the result of the Cuban war the Cubans would have their hands full looking after their cwn affiles. They have nothing whatever in common with the Philippine native, and I can see no possible reason why the two countries at opposite sides of the globe should be affillated. Certainly while the Cuban war lasts the Cubans will hamper Spain in every way they can, and would no doubt gladly send emissaries to assist the Philippine natives in their rebellion but were the war to end in their independence they would soon forget their animosity and become once more friendly with their mother country.

As the Americans say, the asseverations of the sundry correspondents. "make me tired," so I shall pass on to history. It would seem that some six to eight years ago several discontented matives put their heads together to devise a scheme for making the Philippines an Independent republic. They formed themselves into a committee, and directed their labours chiefly among the Masons, a body organized under the rules of Moroyta's masonry, which is distinctly anti-political. Many of the principal sgitators made voyages to the different European countries, for the "good of the cause," and there is no doubt they there studied the workings of " secret societies." They adopted the rules and regulations of the Carbonari Society, Tol are badly armed, baving principally for historical fame in Italy, and on its lines formed | weapons hambon-spears, bolos (something the now famous Katil unan. joined for drilling purposes.

The question of land titles in the Philippines is an old and vexing one, and it henever been difficult to decide ownership in cases of dispute. When Spain conquered the Philippines large tracts of land were granted to the different religious corporations. There corporations did not work or take possession of all the land ailotted to them, and the consequence was that squatters settled on the shandoned parts. When the law of registration came into force, the corporations claimed the land which the sons and grandsons of squatters had come to look upon as their own property, and hence the trouble. The dispute that gave most trouble was that between the natives of Colomba and the priests. The celebrated Dector Rizal was one of the principals in this dispute, and on account of the pamphlets he published in defence of what he considered his rights he was banished from the country. About this time (some ten years ago) a procession of black coated gobernsdorelllos and principalia marched up to Governor Centeno, and presented a poiltion Dalrymple, Middleton, and Mercer batted well asking that the priests should be sent out of the for the ship and Gascoigne's bowling was very country. The question as to who was the proper owner of the land is one I am not prepared to give an opinion on, but we must not lese sight of the fact that the so-called Philippine native | The scores were :is an invader who drove the aborigines to the hills, took possession of all the fertile land on the coast, and made might a que tion of right. And these invaders amongst themselves grabbed each what they could according to their power. The chiefs were mighty and the masses were slaves. according to the custom of savages ; and whether the Spanish rule may or may not leave something to be desired, even the most prejudiced must concede that to the number it has been a boon. The natives enjoy exactly the same civil eights as the Spanisrds, and all pay equal taxes for equal privileges. The rich and principal natives have been, if anything, more honoured than Spaniards in the matter of social distinction, and this notwithstanding they have ever acted as mitters and squeezed from the poor countryman the last cent: A common interest for a large native estate owner to charge his tenents for advances against their crops was from 188 to 374 per cent, and they were obliged to sell their crops to their landlords at a smart reduction on oursent market pricer. And these are the chiefe of the Katipunan who cry out rebellion and incite their poor deluded countrymen to take up arms in defence of a cause which, if successful, would plunge them again into abject alayery.

Immediately the conspiracy was discovered several of the ringleaders were arrested. When the arrests began many well-known mestizus disappeared and evidently joined the rebels. The principal one among these'is Andres Bonifacio, supposed to be vice-President of the Katipunan. and the one excharged with teaching the natives the working of secret societies, and no one can say he has done his work budly. Whether these unknown, but a few days after the first arrests were made a body of 500 rehels endeavoured to enter Manlia by the Santa Mesa Road (on the night of the 20th August) They were checked The next news that we received, about two days the towns of Imus, Silang, San Francisco de Malabon, Noveleta, and Naic. At the same Ecila, where they killed some Spanisids, and robbed and burned the principal town. They were soon driven to the hills by the soldiers sent after them, but they have continually barassed the cutposts by coming down in groups of 200 to 300 at night to attack, and setire when they find resistance. This has been the plan of the rebels on all sides, and it would seem as it they came in the hope that the Indian troops would join them. The Indian troops have behaved admirably since the beginning, and up to date. I don't suppose the total number of descriters reaches a hundred. Had the Indian troops been unfaithful we should have been in a bad plight.

With the exception of the fights of Santa Mesr, Tuy, Talisay, and Nasughu, there has been nothing beyond slight skirmishes until the day before yesterdey, when the troops commenced the attack in extrest. The troors have been so disposed as to encircle the rebels on all sides, but the beavy work of bombarding is carried on from Cavite. The day before yesterday troops took possession of the isthmus between Cavite and Novelets, and the town of Binacayan in Cavite Bay. To-day there is no fresh news to. It is impossible to estimate the number of rebels under arms, but they are much more numerous than was at first supposed. They and a very small portion have guns, rifles, and revolvers. They are in possession of one or two pieces of old-fashioned cannon that belonged to prie talestate in Imus. and they have also several laptaces, or very small cannon, such as the Moros use in Mindauso. They fight the battle of Binacayan the women fought slengside of the men and were as valiant, if not more so than their husbands and brothers. we have to count these Amesons'as rebels, then the number won't be under 100,000. The population of Cavite and Batonges provinces is over 200,000. It is said that when the rebels took possession of Imus and the other towns. they also got possession of about 36,000 cavans The original pilicy of the League was to of paddy belonging to the Recoletos priests. import arms and ammunition and be thoroughly ! They have also stolen a great number of cattle

There is no doubt whatever that the troops will soon win the day, but there will be very other Power to make a general rising. But bard fighting and a creat deal of bloodshed before Imus is taken. Dead men tell no tales; no, nor dead women either, for I am going to join him. Do you know what waiting means for eight long weary years. I have watched and waited, watched till I knew he would grow tired of her, that silly little fool, and then I came to electrify Japan. I have never prefessed to be a good woman, but, for the sake of a few lines, do not see why I should let a silly innocent be condemned for what she knows nothing about, and for which, when you get this, no one on this earth could enlighten her. She is Mr. H. W. Slade beat Mr. D. Wood by 4 up | a silly fool, otherwise she would not have treated the last two weeks as she has done. By the (?) to join him, my twin soul. You may call this what you like, but I think deep down in my heart. I write this for the sake of the boy who is so like his father. Let his mother take heed that he enter not into temptation. I shall write to the Coroner.

> 201h October. "A. L." to MR. J. C. HALL, THE CORONER. Hall, Esquire, The Coroner, The English Court.

Yokohama.

Mr. Hall,-I have finished a letter to Mr. Lowder so cannot begin this to you in quite the same way. Shall I begin it with the truest and wisest saying on this earth,-"woman is at the bottom of everything," In this case it is so, for between us we have brmboosled the lot of you, a the chemist, a the doctor, and last but not least, that fool of a wife. I stop here because my last act on earth shall be a merciful one, and as I am going to join blm, my twin soul, I will exceed that little fool from any share in helping us to meet each other. . I have done my work well, and am taking good care to escape the lot of you and the law. My 2 letters will not be posted till Sunday morning, when I shall be-?

The world will call me mad. I am, however, same enough in what I have done, and what I am going to do, and same enough to accomplish my end-that as we were divided in life we were not in death. I wonder whether out of all this community there is one who can sympathize with me who goes out to meet her maker.

20 October.

'$1∞ REWARD ! The following advertisement appears in Yokohama evening papers over the signature of Mr. J. F. Lowder, Barrister-at-Law :-

1. A letter, undated, signed "Annie"; and its envelope, addressed Frivate, Walter Carew, E q., No. 5, United Club, Yokohama, bearing pps:-mark and tags dated the 13th October, 1806. 2. The address on an envelope, undated, containing a mutilated letter dated the 15th October' 1896, in the handwriting of the late-W. R. H. Carew.

3. A letter, undated and unsigned, and its envelope, addressed to Mrs. Carew, 169 Bluff, left at that address on the 20th October, 1896. 4. A letter signed "A.L." with its envelope addressed Mrs. Carew, 169 Bluff, Yokohama, bearing post-mark 1st November, 1896.

5. A letter date 20th October, 1806, signed A.L." with its envelope addressed to Mr. Lowder, bearing past-mark 1st November, 1806. 6. A letter dated 20th October, 1896. signed "A.L.," with its envelope addressed to Mr. Hall. bearing post-mark 1st November, 1806.

The coroner's summing up and the verdict, an open one, appeared in our columns yesterday. Mrs, Carew is now undergoing trial at Yokohama charged, as appears from a telegram published by the North China Daily News with murder.

FIAT JUSTITIA, RUAT CŒLUM.

TIERTSIM, November 7th.

China is trying to revise her tariff with foreign nations, and for this His Excellency Vicercy Li has been appointed to the Tsung-li Yamen to discuss this important question, but his opportunitles are somewhat counterbalanced by the appointment of Sheag ta-fan as Director-General of the Peking-Hankow Railway. Sheng professes to be ready to start the Railway on native capital, but this is only to give a nice appearance to the business; sub rosa, he has his arrangements with the Bash-American Syndicate, which is to advance a considerable amount of the necessary capital, and in consequence 'supply the rails, bridges, and rollingstock. Representing the Han Yang Iron Works, the Iron Gate to the Iron Road, the shrowd Tactal has declared himself the man most fit for solving the Gordian knot—the great problem of procuring railways for China without throwing her into the hands of foreign capitalists. He told the Emperor at the last audience that he would look out that China should make material herself; and that any I have done what I can for you. True, I have foreigners on the new line should simply be his employes and under his absolute control. But and to Mr. Lowder. Yokehama will be troubled even the shrewdest may overreach himself, and Sheag, of whom it has been said "that his A. L. face is behind every obstruction to British interests," has perhaps done so in the present instance. To commence with, he will-not be. able to keep his promises to the Emperor.

The Han Yang Works will not be able to cast Yokohama United Club, rails and manufacture rolling-stock for the new railway; and if capital be procured from American capitalists on Shang's and not the Emper-ear of the young Emperor.

There are other and weightler reasons why | Tender be accepted. China should not throw herself absolutely into the arms of one nation when such a grand question as railways across 'her vast dominions is at stake. She is trying to raise her tariffs, and Vicetoy Li has been appointed to (solve the | the highest or any Tender. difficulty in which E gland by force of undisputed trade supremacy must have the first say. There is a certain connection between China's recent movement to the railway question and the tariff revision. How can China expect to find a willing car to her proposals in Great Britain and claewhere when she seems to entirely overlook the spirit of the most favoured nation clause. the broad sense of which after all must be that a file chauce as regards trade and husiness We feel sure that the Fereign Ministers will watch Shang's actions, and that Viceroy Li, to whom the tariff revision has been entrusted, will understand the play that is being enacted and will put his wise and equitable councils against the overreaching and overbalancing designs of his former protege, who for the moment seems to be searing high towards the summit of his ambition to become the representative of China's reform enterprises, a position which, we opine, can only be truly and successfully held by H.E.
